To Commodore (Isaac) Chauncey, Sacketts Harbor.

[New York.] Relates the history of his dealings with the Indians in the fur trade around the posts at Michilimackinac. Had left many furs there at the time of the outbreak of the war. Now wishes to send into the states to get the furs. Asks him to use his influence with the authorities in Canada, so that Mr. George Astor can engineer the removal of the furs. Wishes him to write also to Mr. Ramsey Crooks, his agent, to inform him of Captain Sinclair. Fears that an attack will be made on Mackinac and desires to make his arrangements before that happens. To the honourable judges of the Superiour Court of Judicature.

[Boston.] In the case of John Kilton, appellant, and Joseph Lyon, appellee, the appellee answers that the judgement ought to have been for the appellee for the reasons that the wife of the appellant, Lydia, first struck at the appellee and that she had used most provoking language. "Therefore the appellee doubts not but that the Honorable Court will see just cause to reverse the said judgement and to give him his cost of courts." A.D.S. 1p. 11 1/2 x 7 1/2 in.

To the honourable Justices of the Superiour Court of Judicature...

Wherefore the appellant seeks reversion of the former judgement. A.D.S. 1p. 7 3/4 x 6 1/2 in.

«Nantucket, Mass.» The writer discusses the articles being sent to the Fair and the methods of pricing them, particularly the collection of shells. Tells about the effort to organize "a New Anti Slavery Society auxilliary to the Mass. Abolition Society," which is to separate "the Holy Cause" from other issues. Reports the criticism of Garrison by one of two ministers who formed the new society, and the dismissal of the women present at the initial meeting.

[Nantucket, Mass.] The writer reports on local preparations for furnishing a table to the Anti-Slavery Fair. "We meet with much more encouragement this year than ever before." The "more favorable notice of our claims" the writer attributes in part to the labors of John A. Collins and Oliver Johnson, who made a very good impression "notwithstanding the solicitude of the Whig Abolitionists lest they injure the cause." Every family in town is being furnished with a copy of the Almanac for 1840. G. Bradburn has delivered an address. He rather favors voting for Harrison.
